Once more proposals for the construction of the Rondout bridge are being solicited by the state highway department and we are one step nearer to having this great public improvement which we should have had years ago. But the bridge is not built yet, nor is there any assurance that the contract will be awarded, so whether the one step nearer is to be the awarding of the contract, or merely the bringing into use of still another trick to delay the building of the bridge, cannot be positively known at this time. We have been fooled so often that The Freeman is "from Missouri" on all matters pertaining to the bridge.

DETAILS ARE LACKING.

An admirer of President Wilson recently wrote of him: "His beautiful phrasing and fervid appeals in behalf of suffering peoples who long for safety from future wars are very moving, but they stir the heart rather than satisfy the mind, leaving disturbing questions unanswered." There are a few questions, all of vital importance, that are distinctly disturbing to all who use their heads as well as their hearts. They are asked by the Providence Journal, a newspaper noted for its foresight and intelligent patriotism:

1. The surrender of our national sovereignty?
  2. The abandonment of the Monroe Doctrine?
  3. An increased rather than a decreased probability of war?
  4. Our liability to be called upon to govern former German colonies in Africa or former Turkish territories in Asia?
  5. Compulsory arbitration of questions affecting our most intimate interests and national honor?
  6. The breaking down of our immigration barriers?
  7. The relinquishment of our right to maintain our tariff laws at the orders of foreign nations, each of which must be swayed by its own commercial interests?
  8. The reduction of American armaments to a point satisfactory to Europe?
  9. The practical impossibility of our ever withdrawing from the League?
- Those who believe the President's ideas in connection with the League of Nations plan to be infallible ought to remember that they are accepting at its face value the temporary notion of a public man who has reversed himself more often and in more astonishing fashion than any party leader America has ever known. Besides, just what is the President's plan in its working details?

An examination of the cost of construction of the Alaska Railway, built by the Government, shows that while the estimated cost was $50,000 a mile, the actual cost so far has been $141,441 a mile, or about $27 a foot. The estimated expenditures for this year are $967,295 for salaries and $295,465 for wages, indicating that it is the expectation to pay $2 for supervising every dollar's worth of work done. And with the high proportion paid for planning and supervising, it appears that 25 miles of road that was improperly located has been washed away, simply because the men who located the road paid no attention to where it ought to be located. Offers by responsible people to contract for the construction of this road at $14,610 per mile were refused by the Secretary of the Interior, and still we are going on and building the road at a cost of more than $14,000 a mile. This is only another evidence of the extravagance and inefficiency of those who have had charge of Government affairs under this administration. It is a beautiful illustration of what Government ownership and operation means. About a year ago we turned the railroads over to the Government of the United States. We gave them $50,000,000 as an operating fund. They have used it all up, and in the operation of the roads have lost $229,000,000. That same before Congress a few weeks ago and asked for $750,000,000 more, making in all $1,250,000,000.

000 900, which indicates the loss that we have sustained in Government operation of railroads in continental America in less than a year. In the meantime they have raised the rates all the way from 25 per cent to 1,000 per cent, and still, with all these increased rates, we continue to lose fabulous sums of money every year.

LITTLE LAUGHS.

"That was a queer way Jones had to take to arrange his son's finances." "How so?" "He paid a round sum to straighten his affairs."—Baltimore American.

"Any long speeches in your campaign?" "I should say so," replied Senator Sorghum. "Some of my constituents have talked to me by the hour."—Washington Star.

"Pa, there's a burglar in the dining-room." "That's all right. So long as he takes nothing but the silverware I'm not going to bother him. Wake me again though if you hear him going to the basement. I'll die before I'll let him get away with our hard coal."—Detroit Free Press.

Stumping a Lawyer.
 General Pershing, while America was still neutral, sat one evening at a dinner near a New York corporation lawyer.

General Pershing lamented the terrific losses of the small but excellent English regular army in 1914. The lawyer, however, said: "I don't pity such fellows as much as I pity the drafted men. Of your professional soldiers I say, 'Those who live by the sword should die by the sword.'"

"Then I suppose," said General Pershing blandly, "that you also hold that those who live by the law should die by the law?"—Exchange.

Hungry Germany.

Carl Emil Junk, the Chicago dye importer, said at a dinner:

"Germany is hungry. I had a letter from a woman friend of mine the other day, a Berlin music hall artiste, who used to weigh 250 pounds, and, men, she's down to nothing."

"My friend is in Switzerland, trying to recuperate, and she sent me her photo, taken with her favorite dachshund, which the crown prince gave her. The poor, lean creature hasn't lost her sense of humor, for she wrote under her photo: 'A dog and a bone.'"

TWENTY AND TEN YEARS AGO.

March 14, 1899.—Death of William B. Nickens.

Jonathan Ennist died at Shokan, 114th Separate Company mustered out.

March 14, 1900.—James R. Whitaker died at East Kingston.

George S. Kimble died at Ellenville.

Miss Grace Williams and Jacob Ferguson of Leptendale married.

THAT DAYLIGHT SAVING

Displeases at Least One New Paltz Reader.

New Paltz, N. Y.
 Kingston Freeman and Journal.

Gentlemen:—You are very much mistaken if you think the farmers are the only ones that are opposed to daylight saving plan. If the men and women that are opposed to it had gotten after Congress, it surely would have been abolished forever.

Why would people like it that have been going to work at 5 a. m. for years during the summer months to have the clock set ahead and go to work at 4 a. m. Get up before daylight all summer or give up good positions. I think only office people like it who have to get around 9 o'clock. They could just as well get up an hour earlier without upsetting other people's lives fortunate and let the clocks alone.

Your truly.

NEW HURLEY.

New Hurley, March 13.—Walter Scholten of New Brunswick, N. J., was a week end guest of the Rev. and Mrs. G. B. Scholten.

On account of the storm last Sunday morning there were no preaching services in the church.

Sergeant Alfred Zimmer, who is at Camp Dix, is spending a furlough at the home of his parents in this place.

Mrs. M. L. Birch has returned home, after spending a few days with her daughter, Mrs. William Tiers, at Middletown.

Don't forget the services in the church next Sunday evening, March 16th, at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. Frederick Shield, Jr., of Paterson, N. J., is a guest at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Van Wyck.

Remember the birthday party to be held at the home of Mrs. Cordeia Van Kleeck, next Tuesday night, March 18th, and if stormy the first fair night. A good entertainment is being arranged and everyone will be made welcome. All those who have not received the little sacks to place their pennies in will receive them at the door that evening.

March 13-14-15 1919

A. J. Nicoll of Delhi, Delaware county, visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hallock Sutton, recently.

MODENA.
 Modena, March 13.—Miss Reathie Partridge of Newburgh is spending a week's vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Partridge.

Mrs. Anson Armstrong is ill at her home in this village. Dr. Conditon of New Paltz is attending her.

Peter Rooney and family have moved in the house which he recently purchased of J. E. Hasbrouck.

Harry Light has moved in the new house recently vacated by A. L. Brown.

Mrs. Thomas DuBois, Mrs. Edward Atchison and Mrs. Oscar Smith went to Highland cemetery on Wednesday afternoon to attend the burial services of Miss Laura Westcott, who died at Beacon, N. Y., on Sunday.

The many friends of the Rev. H. E. McPherson are sorry to hear him leave Modena. Mr. McPherson has accepted a call to become pastor of a church at Mt. Vernon, Ill., and he, with his family, expect to leave for the west about April 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Irving D. Rhodes of Fort Plain, N. Y., were in Modena last week, coming here to accompany the remains of Mrs. Rhodes's brother, John D. Hatt, who died suddenly in Hartford, Conn., on Sunday. Mr. Hatt was the oldest son of the late Thaddeus and Susan Hatt, and was born at Hatt Hill, 37 years ago. He was buried in the family plot in the Modena rural cemetery, on Thursday, on arrival of the incoming train from Hartford, Conn.

Are you tormented by Neuralgia, Lumbago, Sciatica or any of those aches that require a counter-irritant? Then let the soothing, warming application of Sloan's Liniment stop the pain by drawing the blood away from the congested part.

It is the pressure on the nerves by the blood rushing to the inflamed muscle or joint that makes you ache. So when Sloan's Liniment relieves the swollen blood vessels by setting up a counter-irritant on the surface, the circulation is equalized, sympathetic nerves all soothed, and soreness or lameness disappears.

Sloan's Liniment is probably the counter-irritant most widely used to overcome painful inflammation in cases of neuralgia, sore muscles, wrenched joints, strains, bruises, gout. Rubbing is not required. This clear, clean liquid is easily applied as it does not stain the skin.

Varsity Basketball Beaten 25-15 and Midgets Suffer First Setback—Vets Play - Friday — Freshmen Down Seniors.

Wednesday afternoon at Poughkeepsie the Varsity and Midget teams defeated the local teams. The Varsity game ended in a 25-15 score. However, the locals fought hard, but their cause was a losing one. The players showed their usual skill in pass work and the guards were as active as ever. It must have been one of the "off days" for the team, so they lost.

The Midgets played somewhat better than the Varsity, as they lost with a score of 16-15. This game was a regular one. All excitement from the start to finish. This is the first and only game that the Midgets have lost.

"Curt" Shurtler's famed orchestra will furnish music at the High School Varsity 1918-19 Vets game at the High School gymnasium on Friday night, the twenty-first of March. To have "Curt" and his notable squad serve as a "chaser" for the big game and events to follow is well worth the small admission asked. There will be at least two full hours of dancing besides the other special features.

While the Vets will miss the services of their former crack guard, "Johnny" Joyce, who gave his life in the heavy fighting during the smashing of the Hindenburg line last August, everyone of the four are confident of victory and make it plain that it will be no case of youth looking over age as is usually the story in such cases.

Thursday afternoon the Freshmen defeated the Seniors by a score of 17-15, thereby deciding the dispute over who was the victor before

MANKIND'S DEBT TO THE DOG

Possibly Few Realize How Much the "Noble Animal" Owes to His Faithful Servitor.

We have been accustomed lately to think of dogs, as also most other things, in terms of war; but our debt to the dog dates back to very many centuries before the black year of 1914. Dogs are our oldest friends of the animal world, and it is believed that, since the time man began to domesticate them, they have made more rapid strides in intelligence than we have ourselves.

The day may dawn when we seek to preserve all living things through altruism, but that day is long distant. A writer in London answers observers who have survived to the tune of over 175 different species, because they are useful. As shepherds, Scotch collies are cheaper and more effective than the average human being. Pointers and setters are used with the gun. Other varieties are employed as protectors and comrades; while the errands of mercy achieved by St. Bernards are known to the world. A St. Bernard that died a few years ago won a medal for saving twenty-two lives.

But when a dog ceases to be of use to us it falls on evil days. The old-time bull dog was invaluable to man in handling cattle. When fences were barbed the bull dog began to decline, and the present day bull terrier, used as a pet, marks a phase that is very likely leading toward extinction.

HERE AND THERE ABOUT THE TOWN

The Stroller Hears Some Baseball Talk, and the Yarn of the Place Hitter and the Home Run King.

"Well I see where they have secured Art Rice for umpire of the Twilight League," remarked the customer glancing up from the sporting page he was reading. "I believe they are going to have some league this summer," replied the busy barber, "and we will see some fast games staged."

"I think baseball is a good thing for the town," said the customer. "It awakes a lot of interest and helps boom sport. Did you ever play baseball?"

"Did I ever play," retorted the barber, "why in my younger days I used to be known as the greatest place hitter the game ever saw." "Place hitter?" interrupted the customer, "what's that?"

"A man who can knock the ball into any part of the diamond he desired," explained the barber, "and I always made it a point before playing a game to look over the field carefully, so as to get the lay of the land."

"What was the idea?" asked the customer. "To illustrate my point," said the barber, "I can remember one of the fastest games I ever took part in. It was close, decidedly close, and up to the last of the ninth we were tied, each side having secured a run."

"We were last at bat and I was up. The two who preceded me struck out, and I knew it was up to me to win the game. In looking over the field before hand I had noticed away out in left field a big spike that had been driven through the fence near the top, and I marked its position in my mind's eye."

"What good did that do?" interrupted the customer.

"I'll tell you," continued the barber, "it won the game for I placed my hit in such a manner that the ball struck the spike and stuck there and before the fielder could clamber up to the top of the fence and get the ball I had scored."

SUNDAY SCHOOL HONORS SCHEPMOES

Wednesday evening over three hundreds scholars of the Clinton Avenue M. E. Sunday school gathered at the church to honor the birthday of their superintendent, Edgar B. Schepmoes. It had been previously announced that a social evening for the Sunday school members would take place. This announcement evidently was meant for Mr. Schepmoes because every one knew the actual meaning of the social prior to its occurrence. Plans materialized in an ideal manner and the reception came as a complete surprise to Mr. Schepmoes when he was surrounded with hearty welcomes and congratulations by the members of the school.

An Elaborate Program.

The program was arranged most elaborately and included musical treats and addresses of appreciation for the services rendered the school by the honored superintendent. M.
Frank Hyatt, assistant superintendent of the school, acted as a toastmaster and introduced the pastor, Rev. George M. Cranston, who in his own pleasing way remarked in behalf of the church and Sunday school the respect and honor that justly came due to Mr. Schepmoes upon his birthday. Mr. Cranston as representative of the entire scholarship presented Mr. Schepmoes with a purse of gold. The recipient of the gift was overcome with heartfelt appreciation but responded feelingly in thanks for the remembrance and co-operation that has helped him during his career as the leader of the Sunday school.

Refreshments included ice cream and cake.

A song especially composed by Mrs. S. D. Hines for the affair follows:

Boats Song.

First Verse

Right over here in our Sunday school

Where we meet every week to praise our King

There is a man whom we all revere
And for him now this song we sing.

He's one who's faithful, staunch and true.

In every thing that's right;
We know he's thru and thru true

bliss.

And with him we will work with all our might.

First Chorus

Clinton Avenue—Clinton Avenue—

Clinton Avenue—Clinton Avenue—

In our school we meet together

E. B. Schepmoes there to lead.

E. B. Schepmoes—true and faithful.

Always ready to help each one;

When the school is here in session

He is sure to get things done.

Second Verse

He may be small, but oh oh, my!

That makes no difference at all—

For his arms are always stretched sky-high

And they never yet have had a fall

but there's another side to him—

Which we all love as well—

When there's fun and laughter to be had

He can all others excel.

Second Chorus

E. B. Schepmoes—our good leader

Has a smile for one and all;

And we're here to do his bidding—

For he'll help whenever he calls.

E. B. Schepmoes—we have gathered

As a school to honor you;

For your birthday all good wishes—

Health and wealth, and sunshine—

too.

Cave's Ceiling 100 Feet High.

years they have been made a national monument, and are now known as the Marble Caves of Oregon, says Popular

Mechanics Magazine. The caves consist of three and one-half miles of marble passages and grottoes, ranging from one to four or five stories in height. In places the connecting corridors are so low that one must crawl on all fours for a considerable distance. Elsewhere the chambers are so large that the opposite walls and ceilings are scarcely visible in the dim candle light. The largest cavern measures more than 500 feet in length, and its arched ceiling is 100 feet above the floor.

SMITH DENIES DEAL WITH REPUBLICANS

By Telegram to The Freeman, Albany, N. Y., March 14.—Governor Smith today reiterated his denial that he had compromised with the Republican legislature to secure his program of legislation in return for favorable action on measures sought by the Republicans. The compromise charge was contained in a statement issued last night by Walter Arnold, of the Citizens' Union of New York city.

It is only justice to the Republican leaders to say that they have not even suggested a deal to me," declared the governor today.

Smith said that the governor had no deal to give the Republicans for their support in the repeal of the 1917 currency system and restoration of the old time party nomination method of nominating state elective and judicial officers.

SWAMPED BY THE RUSH

Large Amount of Advertising Material for The Freeman.

The Freeman is compelled to omit fully a page of advertising today owing to inability to set up the type. Although every available man and machine is worked to the limit, the business offered was greater than could be handled without delaying the publication of the paper to an unreasonable hour. Advertising copy is taken up in the order in which it is received. If received the day before it is printed there is opportunity to work on it a minute, a fact that advertisers should remember.

THIS MAY BE RIGHT IDEA

But Apparatus Designed to Enable Men to Walk on Water Seems Rather Complicated.

Walking on the water is an ancient marvel to which the modern mind occasionally turns. Recently a view of doing the thing mechanically. A recent patent described in Popular Mechanics Magazine, the purpose of accomplishing the feat with no smaller an apparatus than three feet and a balloon. As is shown in the illustration, two of the water feet are attached to the ankles of the one who wants to walk on the water, the other is placed in the hand and is pushed a yard or the walker for the purpose of holding him to keep his balance.

These balloons are attached to the ankles and, of course, are designed to provide buoyancy.

The water walker uses a step something like that of the water of shoes, and in spite of the elaborate arrangement, he is provided with a life saver.

Walking on the water, we gather, is as difficult a feat today as it was during the unenlightened ages of the past.

The Pickers Suffer.

"Who is that poor fellow with the emeralds watching him?" asked the visitor to the penitentiary.

"Oh, he's a desperate criminal," replied the warden. "He is doing twenty years. He wrecked a train."

"And who is that trusty who seems to have so many privileges?" asked the visitor.

"Oh, he's a financier," replied the warden. "He is doing two years. He wrecked a railroad."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Meeting in Mystery.

"Bad luck never comes singly" is an old proverb and an untrue one. Its falsity lies in the word luck. A man collects most of his misfortunes. Let him hand him one body blow and he believes the fact that something has gone wrong. Men are so busy at their own affairs in this world, so engrossed in the struggle of accomplishing what they have set out to do, that a bang on the head and a dismal contenance are the only signs to send them on their way about their business. They have no time to stop and ask what is wrong. They are apt unwittingly to let anyone who stumbles by their side. But let the man who has been handed one body blow at the hands of the seemingly invulnerable let him know the course he is taking and he will find that there about him are as many as ever to greet him. He will be the luckiest because he is not in a hurry. How many college football players have been badly bruised when they were holding off because they felt they could not. And how seldom is one injured when he has himself full till the time of the opponent's interference? This same rule applies to a life.

Best Used in Making Fertilizers. The use of a certain kind of fertilizer is recommended for the purpose of increasing the yield of the soil.

TO KEEP UP EMPLOYMENT WORK

After Abolition of Most of U. S. Labor Bureaus Is Object of Director's Appeal—Opportunity For Local Agencies to Take Hold.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, March 14.—John B. Deans, director general of the United States employment service, today issued an appeal to the country to keep the soldiers' and war workers' employment activities going at the present rate after the service is reduced 80 per cent on March 22. The cut is made necessary by the failure of passage of the urgent deficiency bill, carrying $1,800,000 for the operation of the service on its present scale to June 30.

Deans urged the business, labor, welfare and all other interests in every community in which a federal employment service office must be abandoned to take over the office and its work, pending the expected support when congress meets. There are approximately seven hundred federal employment offices in nearly as many towns and cities throughout the country which can no longer be financed by the department of labor.

Salt Superstitions.

Superstitions concerning salt are among the earliest known to mankind. There is much evidence in holy writ for the ceremonial uses of it, and the old Mosaic law commands that every sacrifice of a meat offering shall be seasoned with it. Homer calls it divine and many of the old Talmudic tales looked on salt springs as holy and worshipped at them. The origin of this superstition seems to be that since salt cannot corrupt it should be regarded as a symbol of immortality.

Sensitive Squabs.

French scientists believe that carrier pigeons are influenced by magnetism, and that with the speed of wireless telegraphy much less dependent on the distance between them.

There the emperor lived once a year.

Maize Grown in China.

Indian corn, or maize, is grown extensively throughout the entire section of China. It is generally planted after the wheat is harvested and in fields with beans, the beans ripening after the corn is harvested. The lack of scientific seed selection prevents the production of as large a yield as would otherwise be obtained.

Hint for Gardeners.

Buddy was helping work in the garden, when grandma told him to pull some radishes for supper. The ground was hard, and Buddy had great difficulty in trying to pull them; finally he gave it up, and going to grandma said: "I wish you'd planted 'em upside down, grandma; then they wouldn't be so hard to pull."

SALVAGE SHOP STOCK IS LOW

The Red Cross salvage shop, at Broadway and Downs street, has not been much in the public eye of late, but its work has been going on in a very business-like manner nevertheless, at such a rate. In fact, that its stock is about exhausted. Therefore, the worthy ladies who are conducting it are again seeking a supply of clothing and household articles, discarded for any reason, but still serviceable.

What is particularly needed at this time is a supply of children's clothing, baby clothes, trousers for men and boys, skirts for women, cups, saucers and plates, old tennis and golf balls, bric-a-brac, books for children, and odds and ends for the penny counter. This latter is a popular feature of the store for the numerous children who come in and are often greatly disappointed if the article they desire is out of stock.

Notify the shop if you have anything you think suitable and it will be called for.

NO DIVORCE FOR MRS. TSCHIRKY

The Superior Court of Philadelphia has handed down a decision denying the appeal of Mrs. Florence Tschirky of New York, who carried to the higher tribunal her fight for a divorce from Leopold Tschirky, the son of Oscar Tschirky, of New Paltz, manager of the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in New York. The action of the Superior Court sustains the decision of Judge Clinton A. Groman of Allentown, Pa., and the report of the master Thomas J. Dufenderfer, who recommended that the divorce be not granted. An argument by Mrs. Tschirky's counsel for a postponement of the case was over-ruled. Mrs. Tschirky had left her husband in 1915 and alleged "cruel and barbarous treatment," which Mr. Tschirky denied. Judge Groman said the allegations of the wife were disproved by documentary evidence except one specific charge of indignity, which remained a matter of her word against his. The judge's decision also pointed that during the period when Mrs. Tschirky said her husband was cruel to her she wrote letters to him which showed love and affection.

CAN METHODISTS DO IT?

Centenary Drive Likened To Bible Story.
(Contributed)

In ancient Bible history there is a record which tells of twelve men being sent as spies into a country which had been promised the nation to which they belonged as an inheritance of future home land. Careful search was made of the land with the result that the spies returned with the conviction that it was a land of great natural resources, even bringing back some of the fruit of the land as proof of the report they were going to make.

Had the resourcefulness of the land been all there was in question there probably would have been a breaking of camp immediately upon the report of the spies and a general movement forward; but there was another side to the question, there were obstacles which must be met before the land could be possessed; there were great giant dwellings in that land, and they dwelt in defensible cities, so small were the spies in comparison to them that they were like grasshoppers in their sight.

Men of Courage Present.
When we get both sides of this picture we perhaps are almost ready to say these surely could not be a man among those spies who would have the courage to say or the faith to believe that it would be within the realm of the possible for their people to go up and possess the land; there were ten of the number who were true to our inclination to say impossible, they cried out impossible, those to whom they made the report cried out impossible, and the spirit of the camp rose to a pitch bordering on mutiny.

But there were men of courage there, and they from among the number who had been eye witnesses to all the facts. "And they spake unto all the company of the children of Israel, saying, the land which we passed through to search it, is an exceedingly good land. If the Lord delight in us, then he will bring us into this land, and give it us; a land which floweth with milk and honey." There are people who talk about the Methodist centenary movement in the same strain as did the ten spies, both in respect to the good qualities of the movement and the impossibility of attaining to the standards and goals set; they admit that there is great need of the work being done and it would be a great blessing to the world if the program could be carried out, but when it comes to the question of securing the funds necessary they give out the impression that Methodism is as a mere grasshopper in the presence of the sun which will be required to carry out the program outlined by our leaders.

Church Members Wealthy.
True, if we seek to do it in just our own strength and after the fashion of giving practiced by all too many people in all religious denominations, but before we listen to those who are saying "It can't be done" let us think of the resources with which God has blessed the Methodist membership—on good authority it is estimated that the wealth of our membership is $22,500,000; we are asked to contribute in five years $85,000,000; it would mean that Methodism would be giving only three and seven tenths mills on a dollar, or in other words a person possessing five hundred dollars would need to give $1.55 that the full amount be raised.

In the face of these facts to which section of the twelve spies do we belong if we are saying "It can't be done?" Israel could have gone into the Promised Land at the time when the spies came back had they caught the vision of Joshua and Caleb and exercised the same faith in God. We all believe that to be true. Why then do we say of the centenary, "It can't be done?" As we face this question let us pray the prayer of the Psalmist, "Open thou mine eyes, that I may behold wondrous things out of thy law."

Inkless Pen.
To make a pen that will write without ink, get a small quantity of violet aniline from a drug store, and some gum arabic. Dissolve a little of the gum in warm water, and mix with the violet aniline until a paste is formed. Apply it to the inside hollow of a new pen nib, just above the split. To write with the inkless pen is only necessary to dip it in water. Shake away the drops, but do not wipe the pen. After a few moments it will be possible to write quite well.

Dense Philippine Forests.
You may cut an entrance into a Philippine lowland forest and so dense and high is the overgrowth that you feel as though you might be in a vast cave, and with only subdued rays of light entering here and there through window panes of heavily stained glass. The sun is completely obscured and it is impossible to tell the points of the compass. A twilight gloom pervades everything and it is useless to even guess the time of day.

Rubber Plantations.
In the past the world's supply of rubber has come chiefly from the Amazon. Today the demand is so great that Brazil supplies only about one-fourth of the product. The Malay peninsula, Ceylon, Sumatra, and the Philippine Islands, have been cultivating rubber plantations extensively, and it has been discovered that rubber trees will grow almost anywhere along the equator where there is sufficient rainfall.

Palestine's Salt Mountain.
Palestine possesses a remarkable salt mountain situated at the south end of the Dead sea. The length of the ridge is six miles, with an average width of three-quarters of a mile, and the height is not far from 100 feet. There are places where the overlying earthy deposits are many feet in thickness, but the mass of the mountain is composed of solid rock salt, some of which is as clear as crystal.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, March 14.—The upward movement which started nearly two months ago continued in full swing at the opening of the stock market today, no material change having been caused by the heavy realizing reported since the beginning of the week. Nearly all the industrial issues which are understood to be adopting plans for changing of their fields of activity were in urgent demand again with industrial alcohol moving up 3 points in the first few minutes to 144. The railway equipment stocks were strong. Pressed Steel Car advancing 1 1/2 points to 72 1/2. Railway Steel Springs moved up 3/4 to 83 1/4. Steel Common, while traded in on a large scale, fluctuated in narrow limits ranging from 96 1/2 to 96 3/4. Texas Company made a gain of 2 1/2 points to 210. An advance of over 2 points was recorded in Royal Dutch New York shares at 87 1/2 to 88 1/4, while the old shares declined 1 point to 32 1/4. Central Leather was a strong feature, advancing 1 1/2 points to 71 1/4. Marine Preferred made a gain of over 1 point to 108 3/4.

Advances from 1 to 5 points were made in many issues during the forenoon. Industrial Alcohol moved up 4 points to 144 3/4, and then reacted to 141 1/4. Distillers Securities sold up 3 points to above 60 and Royal Dutch new stock rose 2 points while the old stock dropped 1 point.

The market closed irregular; government bonds unchanged; railway and other bonds steady.

No Rabbits in Palestine.
Among the hoarded animals found in Palestine are the fallow deer, a European type, gazelles and other antelopes, characteristic of Africa. The wild bear, still common, seems to have had for its Biblical companion Beemoth the hippopotamus, though this became extinct ages ago. Its pigmy relative of the rocks, the little hyrax, is a well-known beast of Palestine, and is also of African type. Africa being the home of the family. This is the "cooney" of Scripture, but there is no rabbit in Palestine.

Most Costly Map.
The most costly map in the world is a map of France which was presented to the republic by the czar of Russia when the Franco-Russian alliance was consummated. The groundwork of the map is polished Jasper and the chief features are represented by precious stones and their names inscribed in gold. The rivers are strips of polished platinum, and the 87 departments are set out on a wonderful scheme of blazing gems.

Natural Gas.
Natural gas is probably formed in the earth by a process of natural distillation from the animal and vegetable remains of just prehistoric epochs, and is nearly the same product as is distilled from coal in the process of gas factories, only, instead of the heat of fire, the internal heat of the earth, aided perhaps by chemical decomposition, has caused its formation on a magnificent scale.

CLOSE PLAY AT K. OF C. TABLES

Last night Brown defeated Gillen in the closest game of the K. of C. pool tournament. In the second game Martin outplayed Rafferty. In the third game Morris defeated Doyle. Morris made some good pots. The fourth game proved evenly fought and exciting game between Powers and L. Netter. Powers started the game like a wizard, but Netter came in at the finishing point and walked away with the bacon.

And the Car Stopped.

Wednesday afternoon an unbound trolley car stopped within the required five feet of the Broadway crossing to allow the conductor to get off and see if the tracks were clear. He signaled for the car to start, but the car refused to budge. Conductor and motorman made an examination of the starting apparatus and then tried it again and the car started. It ran some distance and then balked again. With a balley car a would seem that the plan of having the conductor alight and glance up and down at the crossing was not such a bad idea after all.
